

Business Problem Statement

A retail company wants to better understand customer shopping behavior to improve sales and customer satisfaction.

Recently, they noticed changes in purchasing patterns across different customer groups, product categories, and sales channels (online vs offline).

The goal of this analysis is to use customer shopping data to:

- Identify important purchase trends
- Understand factors that influence buying decisions (discounts, reviews, season, payment methods)
- Help the company improve marketing strategies and customer engagement.
